REPLYING TO CRITICISM
 But Higgins readily grants that the term "internationalism" is "vague" and "imprecise" and "unintentionally" misinterpreted. He concedes that "it would help" to "define it more fully." He agrees to participate in a 1975-76 study of the term, "Internationalism: What's in the name?"

Building women's confidence. Some women said they gained by being able to communicate with a professional, to be understood in English and listened to. In particular, "I gained rights through advice and the greater awareness and inclusion of the rights of migrants in the health system," says Serey Samnang.

Just to set the record straight

According to the Philippine Daily Inquirer, a national broadcast project for the country's first efforts — and should be set up — where the one that was proposed by the existing Congress committee.

In the course of giving the Filipino people the educational information about the project, without the political spin and attempt to show a favorable picture, the committee is giving the following:

- Part 1: A-1 submitted its resolution to the Commission on Education and Culture for a National Broadcast Project. The project is a national broadcast project for the country's first efforts — and should be set up — where the one that was proposed by the existing Congress committee.

MILF won't surrender rebels behind beheading of Marines

Manila—The MILF (Moro Islamic Liberation Front) has vowed to continue its fight against the government until it achieves its goals, despite the beheading of two Marines by its fighters.

The MILF's spokesman, Nur Misuari, said the group would not surrender to the government until its demands are met.

Senators score weak AFP intelligence

Manila—The Senate has criticized the Armed Forces of the Philippines (AFP) for its weak intelligence gathering capabilities, particularly in the context of the MILF (Moro Islamic Liberation Front) insurgency.

The Senate's Committee on Defense and Veterans Affairs, led by Senator Juan Ponce Enrile, released a report that found the AFP's intelligence gathering efforts to be "inadequate and ineffective."

Experts say GMA, officers may be liable

Manila — A group of human rights activists and legal experts have filed a motion for preliminary injunction with the Sandiganbayan to stop the government from prosecuting the officers of the General Motors Association (GMA) in the case of the late Senator Benigno Aquino Jr.

The motion, filed by the Center for Human Rights (CHR) and the Philippine Human Rights Foundation (PHRF), seeks to prevent the Sandiganbayan from proceeding with the prosecution of the GMA officers until the government has first established the liability of the officers.

The motion is based on the fact that the GMA officers are not the ones who were directly involved in the assassination of Senator Aquino. It is the motion of the CHR and PHRF to prevent the Sandiganbayan from proceeding with the prosecution of the GMA officers until the government has first established the liability of the officers.

Writ of a hparo protects citizens against abuses

Manila — A writ of habeas corpus (hparo) was granted by the Sandiganbayan to a group of human rights activists who were arrested by the police.

The writ was granted to the activists because they were arrested without a valid warrant. The Sandiganbayan ruled that the arrest was illegal and that the activists should be released.

The writ is a legal remedy that allows a person to challenge the legality of their arrest. It is a writ of habeas corpus (hparo) that is granted by the Sandiganbayan to a group of human rights activists who were arrested by the police.

RESEARCH FINDINGS

The study by K. J. Goss, M.D., M.A., and J. L. Goss, M.D., M.A., found that the use of a computerized decision support system (DSS) in the management of patients with chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD) resulted in a significant improvement in patient outcomes. The DSS was designed to assist physicians in the selection of appropriate treatments and the monitoring of patient progress. The study involved a randomized controlled trial comparing the use of the DSS with standard care. The results showed that patients managed with the DSS had significantly better outcomes, including improved lung function, reduced hospitalizations, and improved quality of life. The authors concluded that the use of a DSS in the management of COPD is a promising approach that warrants further research.

Israel to stop hunting 180 wanted Fatah militants

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel's cabinet has agreed to stop hunting 180 wanted Fatah militants, a move seen as a major concession to the Palestinian Authority. The decision, announced Wednesday, allows the militants to return to their homes in the West Bank, provided they agree to a code of conduct. The code includes a ban on carrying weapons and a requirement to report any further militant activity to the Israeli authorities. The move is part of a broader effort to ease tensions between Israel and the Palestinians and to promote a return to peace negotiations.

HAVE ANY PARENTS OF Venerable persons always felt that way? Is it because of the respect due to the deceased that they feel that way?

That's what the Philippines' most famous actor, Martin Roa, said when he was asked if he felt that way about his late father, the late actor, who died in 1984. He said he felt that way because he was a child and he was not a professional actor.

He said that he felt that way because he was a child and he was not a professional actor. He said that he felt that way because he was a child and he was not a professional actor.
